Most of the clip art available on this site was derived from Cobb Shinn catalogs circa the 1940s. However, a variety of other late 19th and early 20th century material was used as well.

Despite its efforts, RetroSupply LLC cannot and does not guarantee that any Materials offered for sale or license on the Website are no longer subject to copyright protection. Moreover, copyright laws vary by country and jurisdiction.

RetroSupply has diligently researched the copyright status of the Materials under U.S. Copyright Law. Because the Materials all appear to have been first published in the United States, RetroSupply LLC has not researched or determined the copyright status of the Materials used on this site with respect to any other countries or jurisdictions and does not make any representations or warranties as to the non-infringement of any such material with respect to foreign copyright or other intellectual property protection.

This Note is solely intended to provide information about RetroSupply LLC's diligent research efforts, to offer contact information to be used by anyone who believes they may have a copyright interest in the Materials, [and to provide all known information about the origin of the Orphan Works]. This Note is not an admission of liability of any kind. Nothing in this Note should be construed as a waiver of any of RetroSupply LLC's rights under copyright law or any other laws, all of which are expressly reserved.

Thanks again,

Dustin Lee
